~Students represent delegations back home on Florida education reform~

Tallahassee, FL- Fresh from debate at Florida’s 2nd Annual Student Education Policy Conference, student leaders will unveil their specific education policy recommendations during a student-led press conference on Wednesday, March 10th at 8:30am in Tallahassee. Following the press conference, students will present their resolutions to key education leaders and legislative members during scheduled meetings at the Capitol and at the Florida Department of Education. “I believe our voice and our perspective will add tremendous value to the education reform debate this legislative session,” said Vincent Evans, senior at Florida A&M University. “As students, it’s our responsibility to get involved in the public debate and we’re excited about doing so,” said Evans. The student delegations recently met in Tampa to debate and come to consensus on education reform measures important to them. ENLACE Florida, a statewide network promoting college readiness, access, and success for underrepresented students, is coordinating and facilitating the effort.
